Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 4-5, 12-14 and 16-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 4-5, 12-14 and 16-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Braley (4,380,243 or 4,441,712) in view of either one of Joynes or Uhler. The above claims are readable on the patent to Braley with the single exception of having a vibration sensor attached to or at an appliance. The patent to either Joynes or Uhler teaches the above exception. In view of the teaching of Joynes or Uhler, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to provide the above exception to Braley as taught by sections [0008], [0025], [0027], [0029], [0036], [0057], [0061], [0073] and [0090] of Joynes or sections [0006], [0008] and [0022] of Uhler, if desired. Such a modification is well known in the art and would provide no unobvious or unexpected result. Note that the type of vibration sensor and water level sensor are merely a matter of obvious design choice to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made. Note that various types of these sensors could be utilized and accomplish the same claimed result. The enclosure is readable on elements 19-20 and 30. Element 24 is readable on the visual alarm and the audio alarm is readable on element 31. Elements 22 and 23 are readable on the test and reset switches. Also, element 18 and 43 are readable on relay switches. The plug receptacle has multiple plug adaptors or outlet connections for the elements P, 25 and 52. Note that element 35 is an additional plug outlet.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
